The blending of the estate's various blanc de blancs vintages dates back to 2013, with this Solera which stands out for its freshness, composed of equal parts of wine of the year and reserve wine from 2013 to 2020.

The vinification and aging on lees are carried out partially in 228-liter barrels.

Sensory analysis:

On the nose, a gourmet generosity emerges, embellished with floral notes.

On the palate, a creamy texture reveals an elegant structure accompanied by nuances of white fruits such as nectarine and white vine peach.
